

SPECTATOR '67

Sue,

To a real sweet girl that I knew for only a couple of years.
Don't forget those wild times we had at the carnival and when I had the mark on my neck and I was trying to hide it from my mom. And never forget the time I took you over my knee because you were talking back to me. Also remember at the carnival when we met those guys and when that man started to follow us. Oh my. Please forget that time
Allen, you, and I were walking

And I saw this really cool dove on the porch and Allen wouldn't let me take it. Keep your smile and your personality and you sure to succeed in everything you strive to do.

Best of Luck

PRESENTED BY THE 1967 SENIOR CLASS

FOREWORD

"Sailing for New Horizons"

America--where vast opportunities await human touch. Amidst the nervous bustle of this modern world, we, the graduating class of 1967, leave our ports of youth to sail the strange new sea of adulthood, where boundless destinations await our choice.

Our ships carefully constructed, we are prepared for our journeys. Today we lift the anchor of the past; we plot our courses in view of new horizons; tomorrow we sail into the future. With this in mind, the yearbook staff presents the 1967 SPECTATOR, hoping that future journeys will be more pleasant as we recall this memorable part of our past.

ADMINISTRATION

As Dallastown Area High School students we are privileged to have many capable people working to further our education. The Board of Education headed by William Goodling controls and strengthens the Dallastown system.

Supervising Principal S. Ray Grimm, Jr., aided by Carl Glatfelter, Business Manager, and J. Owen Statler, Associate Business Manager, organizes and directs the school district's educational program.

More familiar to the high school students are Clair A. Trout, DAHS Principal, and his assistants A. Neil Harvey and Gerald Miller. Also collaborating with Mr. Trout is Curriculum Coordinator Joseph Rojahn. Together, these men bear the burden of planning an educational system.

CLASS OF '67

CLASS POEM:

THE ACCEPTANCE

Pamela Sprenkle

One moment world, just one moment,
Stop to see us standing here.
We are nothing; we are naked,
self-less, stupid.
Remove us from this chasm.

Teach us world; fill our heads with
All that mankind fills your soul.
We are unknowing, but we want to know.
Take our hands and guide us.

Listen world, hear our child-like plea that Beckons you to give us pity.
We are hollow; show us your Right-and-wrong, your love-and-hate.
Make clear; define emotions.

Accept us world; you who would transform us
Must now at last abide us.
Yes, we were nothing, but now we are everything--
Everything to you . . .

Michael Godfrey

Now as we set upon the world
To use what thou hast taught us,
The memories of those treasured years
Shall never fade from in us.

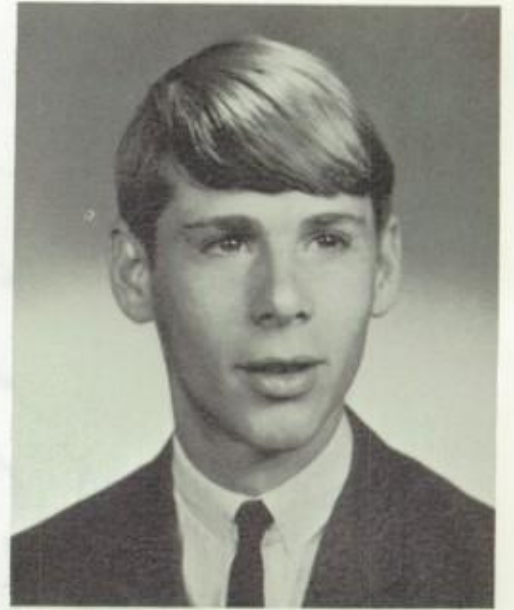

For the years we spent with thee, D-town,
The doors of truth to open,
Were years of toil and great success
'Midst thought our minds have woven.

STUDENT

The opening of the fall school term of 1966 officially began as fellow students welcomed a new slate of Student Council officers. In the breezy yet sunny September air, President Scott Gibbs took his oath of office. The entire student body looked on the ceremony from the football bleachers.

Scott became a familiar figure on the stage as he introduced the many dignitaries and assembly programs. He put new ideas into action; and, advised by George W. W. Jones and Mrs. Joanne Anderson, he and his Council made Dallastown government the voice of the students.

The Council, both the executive and representative branches, proved its vital school role as it completed the traditional handbook, planned the Homecoming weekend, and conducted "Operation Santa Claus." Successfully completing another year of the foreign exchange program, the Council began plans for the next year. The school term of 1966 once again displayed that Student Council is an essential part of school life. Serving as a uniting tie between Administration and students, these students made our school a true example of democracy in action.

Foreign Exchange Program

After a successful year with our foreign exchange program, the Dallastown Area High School Student Council decided to continue the enriching program. After weeks of preparation, countless jars of donated coins, and a lively faculty-student basketball game, the Council acquired enough funds to finance a foreign student for the 1966 school year.

Anxiously Girmé Manago's classmates awaited her first words as she stepped to the microphone on the first day of school. Her gracefulness and soft-spoken gentleness impressed us as she spoke of her homeland in Manila, Philippines.

Later, she delighted her classmates with her rendition of a native pole dance, and she warmed our hearts with her happy face when she rode in the parade as an honorary member of the Homecoming Court.

In the future, those of us who know her well, will recall her bright eyes and sparkling smile. Her brief visit with us will be a cherished memory.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Founded to promote scholastic merit, the Dallas Imperial Chapter of the National Honor Society inducts pupils chosen by faculty members and former Honor Society members. Candidates display scholarship, leadership, character, and service; the Society accepts only the well-rounded individual.

The senior Honor group of '66-'67 consisted of twenty-three members inducted in their junior year. Deborah Bortner presided over the Society and Pamela Sprenkle took the post of vice-president; Linda Russell served as secretary.

Guided by P. Lynn Henry, the members enjoyed study halls converted into free periods. The students could enter any classroom, utilize the library, walk the school's surrounding grounds, or study as a group in the "skull room." These unsupervised periods enriched as well as rewarded these exceptional students.

JUNIOR PLAY

Faculty Director
Mrs. Groome

Lights. Curtains. Action. The stage was set for Dallastown's 1966 spring performance of the high school version of "Tom Jones" performed by a junior class cast. Days of hard work and slighted rest and meals earned a reward of a "full house" both nights of the performance.

The stage set for merry ol' England, the play cast donned their British accents and lurched into the bawdy humor of lusty old England. Ben Blouse and Rita Kulp portrayed the notorious young lovers, Tom Jones and Sophie Western. Good laughs and moments of trial ensued; with a climatic finale Tom was saved from the death penalty, and he and Sophie were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony . . . and all lived happily ever after, except Blifil, of course.

Much of the play's success was due to the acting direction which Mrs. Ann Groome gave to the cast. Only the participants in the play can appreciate the part that she and the play committees contributed to the success of the play. But all who saw "Tom Jones" will remember this outstanding production.

SENIOR PLAY

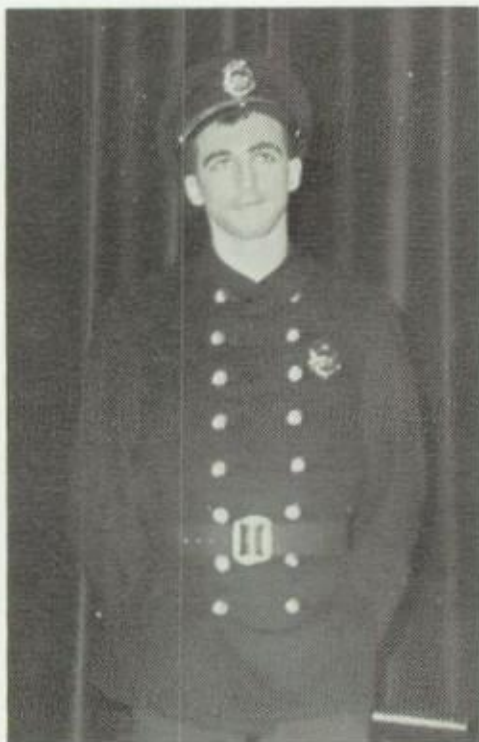

Faculty Director

Mrs. Groome

Laughter and excitement enveloped the audience as the curtain rose on the November 1966 presentation of "Pillow Talk" at Dallas-town Area High School. Under the direction of Mrs. Ann Groome, the light, romantic comedy proved an entertaining evening for young and old alike--refreshing humor with added spice and flavor.

For weeks the play cast toiled under pressure to meet their deadline performance. The stage and lighting crew, publicity, prop, make-up, tickets, and ushering committees all collaborated with the director and her assistants Georgette Freed and Pam Sprenkle to bring about smoothly-running rehearsals and effective results.

Practice hours ran late, but the lead actress and actor, Vicki Gladfelter and Ted Snyder, never tired of their humorous portrayals as an exciting female interior decorator and a popular bachelor. The connection between the two, a disturbing party-telephone line, finally brought them in close contact--the result: a rather stormy romance with a surprising climactic finish. The long hours of strained preparation proved their worth on the actual eves of performance when the profits were plenty and the empty seats few.

Once again the festivities of Homecoming dominated the minds of students at Dallastown. The cold of early winter was forgotten as eight lovely senior girls and their escorts were introduced; the girls must wait until the following night at the Homecoming Dance to learn which one of them would reign as queen. Just as charming were the Junior High princesses and Dallastown's own foreign exchange student, an honorary member of the Court.

Finally Saturday evening arrived, and with it came an air of enchanting excitement . . . the procession of the Court . . . Vicki Glatfelter's receiving the title of First Runner-up . . . and that final announcement . . . Miss Debra Eshelman, Homecoming Queen 1966.

ROW 1: J. Snider, D. Hess, S. Bachman, M. Connelly, D. Eshelman. ROW 2: G. Baum, M. Godfrey, D. Webb, J. Betlyon, J. Reinecke.

Under the direction of Ronald Dietz, the choral groups of Dallastown have the opportunity to perform. With accompanists and officers assisting, Mr. Dietz secures top performances from these various groups. Accompanists for the groups include Michael Godfrey and Jan Folkenroth, Concert Choir; Linda Lentz and Ann Cleaver, Girls' Chorus; and Vicki Myers and Elizabeth Smith, Ninth Grade Chorus.

Rigorous practice schedules result in annual concerts at school and local churches, assemblies, radio and television appearances, and the highly successful yearly operetta. Audiences greatly enjoyed the spring operetta '66, Victor Herbert's "The Fortune Teller."

Representatives in the District Chorus include Linda Russell, Linda Shirey, and Pam Flinchbaugh, sopranos; Charlene Mann, alto; Gregory Baum, tenor; and John Betlyon, bass.

Working together to make use of the gift of song, these groups enrich the extracurricular activities at Dallastown as they bring credit to the school and the community.

BAND

Students walking through the halls near the auditorium are often greeted by swelling strains of music coming from the direction of the nearby bandroom. Those entrancing sounds are from the Dallastown Area High School Marching Band. Well-known throughout the community is this group of students who spend their time in unselfish and successful attempts to create worthy musical notes and measures.

For the past year under the direction of Glenn A. Zockoll, the band has performed and marched in routines for the spectators at football games, in parades, and in concerts. Their effect is nerve-tingling; their result: high profits and "packed audiences."

Long hours of practice under the combined directions of drum majorette Susan Alexander and Mr. Zockoll have resulted in approval and appreciation by audiences. All the work and energy put into this organization is not lost; it emerges from the instruments of each member to merge as one great sound of music.

BEACON

The noise of interviews . . . revisions and write-ups . . . the snapping of a flashbulb . . . the clatter of a typewriter . . . the hustle and bustle as all rushed frantically to meet their deadline--all these are fond and familiar memories of the BEACON Literary Staff.

Faculty sponsor Mrs. Brenda Deller and Editor-in-chief Joanne Zumbrun aided and directed the members of the staff. Results were fine pieces of literature, news items, and entertaining bits of gossip and jokes about D-town's campus.

The Business Staff, under the management of Douglas Smith and student managers Jean Kopp and June Wagner, managed to keep advertisements going out and subscriptions coming in. Together with the SPECTATOR Business Staff the school newspaper and yearbook had another highly successful season at DAHS.

SPECTATOR

Members of the SPECTATOR Literary Staff compiled memories of the class of '67 and preserved them in our yearbook. Editor-in-chief Randi Stine and Assistant Editor John Coffey supervised an eager staff of writers, photographers, and section editors. The staff selected "Sailing On to New Horizons" as their theme and staff advisor, Mrs. Sylvia Landis, approved their choice. The staff compiled a fine copy of the SPECTATOR.

While the literary people chewed their nails over deadlines, the Business Staff existed in a world of patrons, advertisements, receipts, and financial records. Under the guidance of Mr. Charles Landis local businesses were solicited for advertisements, and patrons were sought. This source of money enabled the staff to meet financial responsibilities involved with selling the SPECTATOR.

A black and white photograph of three young women in cheerleader uniforms. One woman is sitting on a bench, smiling, while two others are sitting on the floor in front of her. They are all wearing matching uniforms consisting of a white short-sleeved shirt under a dark vest with a bow at the neck.

My eraser won't write.

The end of the beginning!

A lot of work goes into earning a diploma. Your name on one indicates a measure of achievement of which you can feel proud.

But a diploma is only a milestone—a measurement of what you have done.

Now...how about doing something with it?

For example, what are your plans for furthering your education?

If that isn't possible, then how about looking for a job with a company for whom you can work as beneficially as you worked for your diploma?

Personal effort is the essence of success—the key to your progress. That precious piece of paper you receive graduation day can help you unlock a bright future—as bright as you strive to make it.

May your future be a fine one!

Upon a pleasant hillside
Stands one we love so true
Our loyalty, oh High School
To thee, we pledge anew.
Where'er our paths may lead us
Our praise to thee will sound.
Forever we'll be faithful.
We love thee, our Dallastown,
We love thee, Dear Dallastown.

Though lonely and discouraged
Or tried by care and pain,
One thought of thee inspires us
Our courage to regain.
For still thy clinging memories
Within our hearts abound
To bind us to our High School
Forever, dear Dallastown,
We love thee, dear Dallastown.
